

Safeguarding and Protection Policy – Children and Young People

1. General statement of intent

- 1.1 Safeguarding is everyone's responsibility.
- 1.2 This policy is a statement of Survive's commitment to safeguarding Children and Young People (CYP) we may come into contact with either directly through any outreach programmes or indirectly through the provision of our services to adults. The policy recognises that some of our adult clients will have been sexually abused by People in a Position of Trust (PiPoT) who may still have access to CYP or that they may share information with us about PiPoT who may pose a risk to CYP.
- 1.3 The policy is to be operated by staff, volunteers, trustees and others who work for Survive to safeguard CYP.
- 1.4 It provides guidance on our individual and collective responsibilities in relation to the safeguarding of CYP. Safeguarding responsibilities in relation to adults at risk is dealt with in our Safeguarding and Public Protection Adults at Risk Policy.
- 1.5 Survive's Confidentiality, data protection and information sharing policy and Survive's client contract detail how and when Survive will break confidentiality and raise a safeguarding concern to third parties. Our responsibility to safeguard CYP from harm means action can be taken with or without the consent of the CYP, parents, carers etc. Note Survive has a duty to inform the parent/carer unless the disclosure is about the parent/carer.

2. Legislation and context

- 2.1 Working Together to Safeguard Children (2018) provides a framework for agencies to work together to safeguard and promote the welfare of all children up to the age of 18 years, whether living with their families, in state care or independently.
- 2.2 Safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children is defined as:
- a. protecting children from maltreatment
- b. preventing impairment of children's mental and physical health or development
- c. ensuring that children are growing up in circumstances consistent with the provision of safe and effective care
- d. taking action to enable all children to have the best outcomes
- 2.3 Local authorities and social workers have specific roles and responsibilities to lead the statutory assessment of children in need (section 17, Children Act 1989) and to lead child protection enquiries (section 47, Children Act 1989).

2.4 Children have said that they need:

Vigilance	to have adults notice when things are troubling them
Understanding	to understand what is happening; to be heard and understood;
and action	and to have that understanding acted upon
Stability	to be able to develop an ongoing stable relationship of trust with
-	those helping them

1

Respect	to be treated with the expectation that they are competent rather than not
Information and	to be informed about and involved in procedures, decisions, engagement	concerns and plans
Explanation	to be informed of the outcome of assessments and decisions and reasons when their views have not met with a positive response Support	to be provided with support in their own right as well as a member of their family
Advocacy	to be provided with advocacy to assist them in putting forward their views
Protection	to be protected against all forms of abuse and discrimination and the right to special protection and help if a refugee

- 2.5 Any staff or volunteer who has concerns about a child's welfare should follow Survive's Protocol for Raising Concerns about CYP (see section 4 and Appendix 1).
- 2.6 The Data Protection Act 2018 and UK General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR) do not prevent the sharing of information for the purposes of keeping children safe. Fears about sharing information must not be allowed to stand in the way of the need to promote the welfare and protect the safety of children.
- 2.7 Survive has established the CEO as its designated Safeguarding Concerns Manager (SCM) all staff and volunteers have been made aware of this and provided with their contact details. The Counselling Services Manager, Support Services Manager or nominated trustee will deputise in their absence.
- 2.8 The Protection of Children Act (1999) requires employers to carry out Enhanced Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) checks before employees and volunteers are allowed to come into unsupervised contact with CYP. Survive's Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Policy provides further detail regarding Survive's position on how it deals with cautions and previous convictions.

3. Recognising the signs and symptoms of abuse

3.1 When a CYP is experiencing abuse, they may display particular signs and symptoms that act as indicators that this might be happening. Some of these signs and symptoms include:

and symptome medde:
Becoming withdrawn	Unusual or erratic behaviour
Withdrawing from friends and family	Running away from home
Losing interest in hobbies, job etc.	Rapid weight loss or gain
Low self-esteem/confidence	Repeated illnesses
Depression	Alcohol misuse
Anxiety	Drug misuse
Self-harm	Sudden changes in behaviour – becoming
Suicidal thoughts	too withdrawn or erratic
Suicide attempts	Evident bruising, scratches, cuts or other
Other mental health issues	marks and injuries
Slower than normal development	-

3.2 It is important to remember that this list is not exhaustive but is used to provide indicators to some of the signs that an individual may be experiencing abuse. It is also important to remember that individually these signs may not present a concern but persistence and a combination of a number of the above can offer further indication that abuse may be taking place.

2

- 3.3. Staff and volunteers conducting any outreach programmes with CYP must remember that victims/survivors have the right to share as much or as little information as they wish, so they may choose not to share information which alludes to abuse taking place. Our role is to support the individual and to explain the actions we will take if we think they are experiencing, or at risk of, abuse or neglect. This includes a duty to inform their parent/care (if details are known) unless the disclosure is about their parent/carer.
- 3.4 Staff and volunteers who become concerned about the safeguarding of CYP through Support Work or Counselling sessions with adult clients must explain to the client the actions we will take if we think a CYP is experiencing, or at risk of, abuse or neglect. This includes where an adult informs us that they were abused as a child by PiPoT such as a teacher or priest who may still have access to CYP. Or for example, where PiPoT may now pose a risk of harm to other CYP (e.g. risk of abusive expartner in position of trust with access to CYP).
- 3.5 The categories and descriptions below are intended to help Survive staff and volunteers be alert to and identify signs of abuse whenever possible. Abuse can take many forms.

Abuse	A form of maltreatment of a child. Somebody may abuse or neglect a child by inflicting harm, or by failing to act to prevent harm. Harm can include ill treatment that is not physical as well as the impact of witnessing ill treatment of others (e.g. witnessing domestic abuse). Children may be abused in a family, in an institutional or community setting, by those known to them or, more rarely, by others. Abuse can take place wholly online, or technology may be used to facilitate offline abuse. Children may be abused by an adult or adults, or another child or children This may include hitting, shaking, throwing, burning or scalding, drowning,
Abuse	suffocating or otherwise, causing physical harm. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces, illness in a child.
Sexual Abuse	Involves forcing or enticing a young person to take part in sexual activities, whether or not the young person is aware of what is happening. The activities may involve physical contact, including assault by penetration (for example, rape or oral sex) or non-penetrative acts such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing and touching outside of clothing. They may also include non-contact activities, such as involving children in looking at, or in the production of, sexual images, watching sexual activities, encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways, or grooming a child in preparation for abuse. Sexual abuse can take place online, and technology can be used to facilitate offline abuse. Sexual abuse is not solely perpetrated by adult males. Women can also commit acts of sexual abuse, as can other children.
Child sexual exploitation	Child sexual exploitation is a form of child sexual abuse. It occurs where an individual or group takes advantage of an imbalance of power to coerce, manipulate or deceive a child or young person under the age of 18 into sexual activity (a) in exchange for something the victim needs or wants, and/or (b) for the financial advantage or increased status of the perpetrator or facilitator. The victim may have been sexually exploited even if the sexual activity appears consensual. Child sexual exploitation does not always involve physical contact; it can also occur through the use of technology.
Neglect or act of omission	The persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of the child's health or development. Neglect may occur during pregnancy as a result of maternal substance abuse. Once a child is born, neglect may involve a parent or care failing to: a, provide adequate food, clothing and shelter (including exclusion from home or abandonment) b. protect a child from physical and emotional harm or danger c. ensure adequate supervision (including the use of inadequate caregivers) d. ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs. This is the persistent emotional ill-treatment of a CVP such as to cause severe and persistent effects on the CVPs emotional development. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment or another interest of the CVP. Financial or material another interest of the CVP. Financial or material another interest of the CVP. Financial or material another int home or abandonment) b. protect a child from physical and emotional harm or danger c. ensure adequate supervision (including the use of inadequate care- givers) d. ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional and the persistent emotional ill retartement of a CVP such as to cause severe and persistent effects on the CVPs emotional development. It may involve conveying to CVP that they are worthless and unloved, inadequate, or valued only so far as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the little returnent of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the little participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the little participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the little participating in normal social interaction with learns, with a property of significant harms are the preshold that justifies compulsory intervention in family life in the best interest of the CYP. Financial or material abuse This is when a person is prevented from accessing their own money, benefits or assets or is subject to undue pressure, duress, threat or undue influence in connection with loans, wills, property inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or missing personal possessors an annexplained lack of money or inability to maintain a lifestyle, unexplained withdrawals of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage fi

3

b. protect a child from physical and emotional harm or danger c. ensure adequate supervision (including the use of inadequate care- givers) d. ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs. Emotional or Psychological Abuse This is the persistent emotional ill-treatment of a CYP such as to cause severe and persistent effects on the CYPs emotional development. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve serious builsying (including cyber bullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of ill-treatment of a CYP, though it may occur alone. Significant Harm Some is the pression of the complex of the complex of significant harm. The Children Act V section 47 (1) introduced the concept of significant harm as the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention in family life in the best interest of the CYP. Financial or material abuse Modern Slavery Modern Slavery Modern Slavery Modern Slavery Modern Slavery Modern Slavery This includes human trafficking, forced labour, domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clean). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as bei
c. ensure adequate supervision (including the use of inadequate caregivers) d. ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs. This is the persistent emotional ill-treatment of a CVP such as to cause severe and persistent effects on the CVPs emotional development. It may involve conveying to CYP that they are worthless and unloved, inadequate, or valued only so far as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of significant harm as the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention in family life in the best interest of the CYP. Financial or material abuse interest or is subject to undue pressure, duress, threat or undue influence in connection with loans, wills, properly inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern slavery exploration, such as escort work, prositution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be ab givers) d. ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs. This is the persistent emotional ill-treatment of a CYP such as to cause severe and persistent effects on the CYPs emotional development. It may involve conveying to CYP that they are worthless and unloved, inadequate, or valued only so far as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may involve serious bullying (including cyber bullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of ill-treatment of a CYP, though it may occur alone. Significant Harm Some evel of emotional abuse is involved in all types of ill-treatment of a CYP, though it may occur alone. Some CYP may be in need because they are suffering or likely to suffer significant harm. The Children Act V section 47 (1) introduced the concept of significant harm as the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention in family life in the best innerest of the CYP. Financial or material abuse Modern slavery Modern slaver
d. ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs. Emotional or Psychological Abuse This is the persistent emotional ill-treatment of a CVP such as to cause sever and persistent effects on the CYPs emotional development. It may involve conveying to CYP that they are worthless and unloved, inadequate, or valued only so far as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of a CYP, though it may occur alone. Significant Harm Some CYP may be in need because they are suffering or likely to suffer significant harm. The Children Act V section 47 (1) introduced the concept of significant harm as the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention in family life in the best interest of the CYP. This is when a person is prevented from accessing their own money, benefits or assets or is subject to undue pressure, duress, threat or undue influence in connection with loans, wills, property inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or missing personal possessions, an unexplained lack of money or inability or maintain a lifestyle, unexplained withdrawals of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage Emotional or Psychological Abuse This is the presistent emotional ill-treatment of a CVP such as to cause severe and persistent effects on the CVPs emotional development. It may involve conveying to CVP that they are worthless and unloved, inadequate, or valued only so far as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of a coryp. though it may occur alone. Significant Significant harm. The Children Act V section 47 (1) introduced the concept of significant harm. The Children Act V section 47 (1) introduced the concept of significant harm as the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention in family life in the best interest of the CYP. Financial or material abuse is involved in all types benefits or assets or is subject to undue pressure, duress, threat or undue influence in connection with loans, wills, property inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or missing personal possessions, an unexplained lack of money or inability to maintain a lifestyle, unexplained withdrawals of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern slavery Modern slavery This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of Emotional or Psychological Abuse This is the persistent emotional ill-treatment of a CVP such as to cause severe and persistent effects on the CYPs emotional development. It may involve conveying to CVP that they are worthless and unloved, inadequate, or valued only so far as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeind or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of ill-treatment of a CYP, though it may occur alone. Significant Harm Some CYP may be in need because they are suffering or likely to suffer significant harms. The Children Act V section 47 (1) introduced the concept of significant harms as the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention in family life in the best interest of the CYP. This is when a person is prevented from accessing their own money, benefits or assets or is subject to undue pressure, duress, threat or undue influence in connection with loans, wills, property inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or missing personal possessions, an unexplained lack of money or inability to maintain a lifestyle, unexplained withdrawls of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern Slavery This includes human trafficking, forced labour, domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, such as esco Psychological Abuse Severe and persistent effects on the CYPs emotional development. It may involve conveying to CYP that they are worthless and unloved, inadequate, or valued only so far as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may involve serious bullying (including cyber bullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of ill-treatment of a CYP, though it may occur alone. Significant Harm Some CYP may be in need because they are suffering or likely to suffer significant harm. The Children Act V section 47 (1) introduced the concept of significant harm as the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention in family life in the best interest of the CYP. Financial or material abuse This is when a person is prevented from accessing their own money, benefits or assets or is subject to undue pressure, duress, threat or undue influence in connection with loans, wills, property inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or missing personal possessions, an unexplained lack of money or inability to maintain a lifestyle, unexplained withdrawals of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern slavery Modern slavery Modern slavery Financial or manufaction, such as secont work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will involve conveying to CYP that they are worthless and unloved, inadequate, or valued only so far as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve serious bullying (including cyber bullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of ill-treatment of a CYP, though it may occur alone. Significant Harm Some CYP may be in need because they are suffering or likely to suffer significant harm. The Children Act V section 47 (1) introduced the concept of significant harm. The Children Act V section 47 (1) introduced the concept of significant harm as the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention in family life in the best interest of the CYP. Financial or material abuse This includes human traffick in an unexplained lack of money or inability to maintain a lifestyle, unexplained withdrawals of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern slavery Modern slavery This includes human trafficking, forced labour, domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clean). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance or valued only so far as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve serious bullying (including cyber bullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of ill-treatment of a CYP, though it may occur alone. Significant Some CYP may be in need because they are suffering or likely to suffer significant harm. The Children Act V section 47 (1) introduced the concept of significant harm as the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention in family life in the best interest of the CYP. Financial or material abuse This is when a person is prevented from accessing their own money, benefits or assets or is subject to undue pressure, duress, threat or undue influence in connection with loans, wills, property inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or mising personal possessions, an unexplained lack of money or inability to maintain a lifestyle, unexplained withdrawals of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern slavery Modern slavery This includes human trafficking, forced labour, domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will ne	Psychological include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may involve serious bullying (including cyber bullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of ill-treatment of a CYP, though it may occur alone. Significant Harm as the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention in family life in the best interest of the CYP. Financial or material abuse Modern abuse Modern as the treatment of the CYP. This is when a person is prevented from accessing their own money, benefits or assets or is subject to undue pressure, duress, threat or undue influence in connection with loans, wills, property inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or missing personal possessions, an unexplained lack of money or inability to maintain a lifestyle, unexplained withdrawals of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. This includes human trafficking, forced labour, domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clean). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygien	Abuse silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or ill-treatment of a CYP, though it may occur alone. Significant Harm Significant Harm Some CYP may be in need because they are suffering or likely to suffer significant harm. The Children Act V section 47 (1) introduced the concept of significant harm as the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention in family life in the best interest of the CYP. Financial or material abuse Financial or material abuse In it is when a person is prevented from accessing their own money, benefits or assets or is subject to undue pressure, duress, threat or undue influence in connection with loans, wills, property inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or missing personal possessions, an unexplained lack of money or inability to maintain a lifestyle, unexplained withdrawals of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clean). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may involve serious bullying (including cyber bullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of ill-treatment of a CYP, though it may occur alone. Significant Harm Significant Some CYP may be in need because they are suffering or likely to suffer significant harm. The Children Act V section 47 (1) introduced the concept of significant harm as the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention in family life in the best interest of the CYP. This is when a person is prevented from accessing their own money, benefits or assets or is subject to undue pressure, duress, threat or undue influence in connection with loans, wills, property inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern slavery Modern slavery Modern slavery Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. Discriminatory abuse Grooming Grooming Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploit or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relations imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of a cYP, though it may occur alone. Significant Harm Significant Harm Some CYP may be in need because they are suffering or likely to suffer significant harm. The Children Act V section 47 (1) introduced the concept of significant harm as the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention in family life in the best interest of the CYP. This is when a person is prevented from accessing their own money, benefits or assets or is subject to undue pressure, duress, threat or undue influence in connection with loans, wills, property inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern In it is includes human trafficking, forced labour, domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clear). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or tre child's developmental capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of ill-treatment of a CYP, though it may occur alone. Significant Harm Some CYP may be in need because they are suffering or likely to suffer significant harm. The Children Act V section 47 (1) introduced the concept of significant harm as the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention in family life in the best interest of the CYP. Financial or material abuse This is when a person is prevented from accessing their own money, benefits or assets or is subject to undue pressure, duress, threat or undue influence in connection with loans, wills, property inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or missing personal possessions, an unexplained lack of money or inability to maintain a lifestyle, unexplained withdrawals of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern Slavery Modern Slavery Modern Slavery This includes human trafficking, forced labour, domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clean). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, h exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may involve serious bullying (including cyber bullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of ill-treatment of a CYP, though it may occur alone. Significant Harm Significant Harm as the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention in family life in the best interest of the CYP. Financial or material abuse This is when a person is prevented from accessing their own money, benefits or assets or is subject to undue pressure, duress, threat or undue influence in connection with loans, wills, property inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or missing personal possessions, an unexplained lack of money or inability to maintain a lifestyle, unexplained withdrawals of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern slavery Modern slavery This includes human trafficking, forced labour, domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clear). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. This may manifest itself as any of the other categories of abuse previously stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve serious bullying (including cyber bullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of ill-treatment of a CYP, though it may occur alone. Significant Harm Some CYP may be in need because they are suffering or likely to suffer significant harm as the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention in family life in the best interest of the CYP. Financial or material abuse This is when a person is prevented from accessing their own money, benefits or assets or is subject to undue pressure, duress, threat or undue influence in connection with loans, wills, property inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or missing personal possessions, an unexplained lack of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern slavery Modern This includes human trafficking, forced labour, domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clear). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. Discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sen another. It may involve serious bullying (including cyber bullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of ill-treatment of a CYP, though it may occur alone. Significant Harm Some CYP may be in need because they are suffering or likely to suffer significant harm. The Children Act V section 47 (1) introduced the concept of significant harm. The Children Act V section 47 (1) introduced the concept of significant harm. The Children Act V section 47 (1) introduced the concept of significant harm as the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention in family life in the best interest of the CYP. Financial or This is when a person is prevented from accessing their own money, benefits or assets or is subject to undue pressure, duress, threat or undue influence in connection with loans, wills, property inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or missing personal possessions, an unexplained lack of money or inability to maintain a lifestyle, unexplained withdrawals of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern Slavery This includes human trafficking, forced labour, domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clear). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of ill-treatment of a CYP, though it may occur alone. Significant Harm Some CYP may be in need because they are suffering or likely to suffer significant harm. The Children Act V section 47 (1) introduced the concept of significant harm as the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention in family life in the best interest of the CYP. This is when a person is prevented from accessing their own money, benefits or assets or is subject to undue pressure, duress, threat or undue influence in connection with loans, wills, property inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or missing personal possessions, an unexplained lack of money or inability to maintain a lifestyle, unexplained withdrawals of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern slavery Modern slavery Modern slavery Modern slavery This includes human trafficking, forced labour, domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clear). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. This may manifest itself as any of the other categories of abuse previously stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of ill-treatment of a CYP, though it may occur alone. Some CYP may be in need because they are suffering or likely to suffer significant harm. The Children Act V section 47 (1) introduced the concept of significant harm as the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention in family life in the best interest of the CYP. Financial or material abuse This is when a person is prevented from accessing their own money, benefits or assets or is subject to undue pressure, duress, threat or undue influence in connection with loans, wills, property inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or missing personal possessions, an unexplained lack of money or inability to maintain a lifestyle, unexplained withdrawals of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern slavery Modern slavery This includes human trafficking, forced labour, domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clear). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. This may manifest itself as any of the other categories of abuse previously stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, men Significant Harm Some CYP may be in need because they are suffering or likely to suffer significant harm. The Children Act V section 47 (1) introduced the concept of significant harm as the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention in family life in the best interest of the CYP. This is when a person is prevented from accessing their own money, benefits or assets or is subject to undue pressure, duress, threat or undue influence in connection with loans, wills, property inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or missing personal possessions, an unexplained lack of money or inability to maintain a lifestyle, unexplained withdrawals of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern slavery Modern slavery This includes human trafficking, forced labour, domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clear). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. This may manifest itself as any of the other categories of abuse previously stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or o
Significant Harm Some CYP may be in need because they are suffering or likely to suffer significant harm. The Children Act V section 47 (1) introduced the concept of significant harm as the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention in family life in the best interest of the CYP. Financial or material abuse This is when a person is prevented from accessing their own money, benefits or assets or is subject to undue pressure, duress, threat or undue influence in connection with loans, wills, property inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or missing personal possessions, an unexplained lack of money or inability to maintain a lifestyle, unexplained withdrawals of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern slavery Modern slavery Modern slavery Modern slavery Endowment of the common of the Harm significant harm. The Children Act V section 47 (1) introduced the concept of significant harm as the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention in family life in the best interest of the CYP. Financial or material abuse This is when a person is prevented from accessing their own money, benefits or assets or is subject to undue pressure, duress, threat or undue influence in connection with loans, wills, property inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or missing personal possessions, an unexplained lack of money or inability to maintain a lifestyle, unexplained withdrawals of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern Slavery This includes human trafficking, forced labour, domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clear). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. Discriminatory abuse stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young pe	0
of significant harm as the threshold that justifies compulsory intervention in family life in the best interest of the CYP. Financial or material benefits or assets or is subject to undue pressure, duress, threat or undue influence in connection with loans, wills, property inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or missing personal possessions, an unexplained lack of money or inability to maintain a lifestyle, unexplained withdrawals of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern slavery exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clear). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. Discriminatory abuse motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relati
Financial or material abuse This is when a person is prevented from accessing their own money, benefits or assets or is subject to undue pressure, dures, threat or undue influence in connection with loans, wills, property inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or missing personal possessions, an unexplained lack of money or inability to maintain a lifestyle, unexplained withdrawals of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern slavery Modern slavery This includes human trafficking, forced labour, domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clear). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. Discriminatory abuse This may manifest itself as any of the other categories of abuse previously stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or t	Harm
Financial or material abuse This is when a person is prevented from accessing their own money, benefits or assets or is subject to undue pressure, duress, threat or undue influence in connection with loans, wills, property inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or missing personal possessions, an unexplained lack of money or inability to maintain a lifestyle, unexplained withdrawals of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern slavery Modern slavery This includes human trafficking, forced labour, domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clear). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. Discriminatory abuse This may manifest itself as any of the other categories of abuse previously stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or t material abuse benefits or assets or is subject to undue pressure, duress, threat or undue influence in connection with loans, wills, property inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or missing personal possessions, an unexplained lack of money or inability to maintain a lifestyle, unexplained withdrawals of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern Slavery Modern This includes human trafficking, forced labour, domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clear). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. Discriminatory Discriminatory This may manifest itself as any of the other categories of abuse previously stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Gr	Financial ar influence in connection with loans, wills, property inheritance or financial transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or missing personal possessions, an unexplained lack of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern slavery Modern slavery This includes human trafficking, forced labour, domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clear). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. Discriminatory abuse stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.
transactions. It may involve exploitation of a CYPs money or assets or missing personal possessions, an unexplained lack of money or inability to maintain a lifestyle, unexplained withdrawals of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern slavery This includes human trafficking, forced labour, domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clear). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. Discriminatory abuse Discriminatory abuse This may manifest itself as any of the other categories of abuse previously stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them s missing personal possessions, an unexplained lack of money or inability to maintain a lifestyle, unexplained withdrawals of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern Slavery This includes human trafficking, forced labour, domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clear). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. Discriminatory abuse This may manifest itself as any of the other categories of abuse previously stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.	abuse maintain a lifestyle, unexplained withdrawals of money from accounts or involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern Slavery This includes human trafficking, forced labour, domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clear). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. Discriminatory abuse Discriminatory abuse This may manifest itself as any of the other categories of abuse previously stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.
involve the person allocated to manage financial affairs being evasive or uncooperative. Modern slavery This includes human trafficking, forced labour, domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clear). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. Discriminatory abuse This may manifest itself as any of the other categories of abuse previously stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.
Modern slavery This includes human trafficking, forced labour, domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clear). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. Discriminatory abuse This may manifest itself as any of the other categories of abuse previously stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.
Modern slavery This includes human trafficking, forced labour, domestic servitude, sexual exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clear). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. Discriminatory abuse This may manifest itself as any of the other categories of abuse previously stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.
exploitation, such as escort work, prostitution and pornography as well as debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clear). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. Discriminatory abuse This may manifest itself as any of the other categories of abuse previously stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.	Modern debt bondage (being forced to work to pay off debts that realistically they will never be able to clear). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. Discriminatory abuse This may manifest itself as any of the other categories of abuse previously stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.
will never be able to clear). The CYP may appear malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. Discriminatory abuse This may manifest itself as any of the other categories of abuse previously stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.
or withdrawn. They may be isolated from the community or present as being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. Discriminatory abuse This may manifest itself as any of the other categories of abuse previously stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.
being under the control of others. There may be an avoidance of eye contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. Discriminatory abuse This may manifest itself as any of the other categories of abuse previously stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.
contact and the CYP may appear frightened or hesitant to talk to other people. Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. Discriminatory abuse This may manifest itself as any of the other categories of abuse previously stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.
Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. Discriminatory abuse This may manifest itself as any of the other categories of abuse previously stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.
Self-neglect This is characterised by poor personal hygiene, unkempt appearance, lack of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. Discriminatory abuse This may manifest itself as any of the other categories of abuse previously stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.		1
of essential food clothing or shelter, malnutrition, hoarding, non-compliance with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication or treat illness or injury. Discriminatory abuse This may manifest itself as any of the other categories of abuse previously stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.	Self-neglect
Or treat illness or injury. Discriminatory abuse This may manifest itself as any of the other categories of abuse previously stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.
Discriminatory abuse This may manifest itself as any of the other categories of abuse previously stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.		with health or care services, an inability or unwillingness to take medication abuse stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.		or treat illness or injury.
abuse stated. What is distinctive, however, is that discriminatory abuse is motivated by oppressive and discriminatory attitudes towards a person's disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.	Discriminatory disability, physical or learning disability, mental ill-health or sensory impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.	abuse impairment, race, gender, age, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.
orientation, political convictions, appearance or other aspects. Grooming Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.
Grooming is when someone builds a relationship, trust and emotional connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.
connection with a child or young person so they can manipulate, exploit and abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.
abuse them. CYP who are groomed can be sexually abuse, exploited or trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.	Grooming trafficked. Anybody can be a groomer, no matter their age, gender or race. Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.
Grooming can take place over a short or long period of time – from weeks to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.
to years. Groomers may also build a relationship with the CYPs family or friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.
friends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.
•
		triends to make them seem trustworthy or authoritative.

Version 3 Signed Chair of Trustees: July 2023 Policy owner: SMT
Next review: July 2023 (unless legal change) Charity: Survive

4

County Lines	A term used to describe gangs and organised criminal networks involved in exporting illegal drugs into one or more importing areas within the UK, using dedicated mobile phone lines or other form of 'deal line'. They are likely to exploit children and vulnerable adults to move and store the drugs and money, and they will often use coercion, intimidation, violence (including sexual violence) and weapons.
Child criminal exploitation	Where an individual or group takes advantage of an imbalance of power to coerce, control, manipulate or deceive a child or young person under the age of 18 into any criminal activity (a) in exchange for something the victim needs or wants, and/or (b) for the financial or other advantage of the perpetrator or facilitator and/or (c) through violence or the threat of violence. The victim may have been criminally exploited even if the activity appears consensual. Child criminal exploitation does not always involve physical contact; it can also occur through the use of technology

4. Protocol for raising concerns about CYP

- 4.1 In the first instance, staff and volunteers should raise any safeguarding concerns with the designated safeguarding lead for the day which will usually be a lead counsellor or the Counselling Services Manager.
- 4.2 If the designated safeguarding lead for the day is not available, staff and volunteers can contact the Support Services Manager, the CEO in their capacity as SCM or the nominated trustee for safeguarding issues.
- 4.3 The designated safeguarding lead will discuss your concerns with you and decide whether:
 - the concerns need to be escalated outside of Survive
 - the concerns will be raised with the parent/carer
 - the concerns will be raised externally with or without the consent of the individual
 - the concerns will be raised externally with or without the knowledge or consent of the individual's parent/carer (where details are known) unless the disclosure is about their parent/carer

The designated safeguarding lead will consider whether:

- the action being taken is proportionate to the risk
- raising the concern is in the public interest (e.g. is there a risk to others)
- raising the concern is in the CYP's best interests (i.e. it will prevent significant harm)
- 4.4 The protocol for raising concerns about a CYP is found on Sharepoint and HR Breathe: Safeguarding CYP Appendix 1 Protocol for Raising Concerns.
- 4.5 The contact details for raising safeguarding concerns internally with Survive's designated safeguarding leads or externally with other agencies is found on Sharrepoint and HR Breathe: Safeguarding CYP Appendix 2 Contact Details.
- 4.6 All staff and volunteers involved in raising a safeguarding concern should:
- update the client record on Charity Log stating their own actions in relation to the case:
- add a Safeguarding flag to the client's record on Charity log;
- where necessary, task actions to others on Charity Log;
- ensure the SCM is informed either directly or via your supervisor or line manager ensure the PFCC-lead is informed if the disclosure relates to a PFCC-referred client.

5

5. Position of Trust

- 5.1 'Position of trust' is a legal term that refers to certain roles and settings where an adult has regular and direct contact with children. Examples of positions of trust include: teachers, care workers, youth justice workers, social workers, doctors.
- 5.2 In England, Wales and Northern Ireland changes to the law made in 2022 extend the definition to include faith group leaders and sports coaches.
- 5.3 It is against the law for someone in a position of trust to engage in sexual activity with a child in their care, even if that child is over the age of consent (16 or over).
- 5.4 Survive staff and volunteers should consider what actions they need to take to keep other CYP safe should an adult client share with us that they have been sexually abused by a person in a position of trust who may still have access to and pose a risk to CYP (e.g. a teacher, a priest etc).
- 5.3 Those who deliver frontline services to Survive clients could be categorised as a person in a position of trust meaning
- they will be perceived by CYP as trusted representatives of Survive
- Survive could be in receipt of information about them under the Notifiable Occupation Scheme (e.g. police allege assault committed by person in position of trust to the Local Authority who subsequently inform their employer, Survive);
- their behaviour outside of work could potentially result in disciplinary proceedings (in line with our disciplinary policy);
- their behaviour outside of work could potentially result in Survive contacting the Disclosure and Barring Service;
- Survive staff, volunteers, trainees and trustees should never place themselves in situations where abuse might be alleged and should always consider how an action or activity may be perceived as opposed to how it is intended.

6. Allegations against Survive staff, volunteers or trustees

- 6.1 Any allegations made against a member of staff or volunteer will be dealt with as a serious matter, following Survive's disciplinary policy and procedure.
- 6.2 Any allegations against staff and volunteers should be reported to the SCM or if the concern is with the SCM, to the Chair of trustees who will delegate to an appropriately qualified trustee.

7. Public protection

7.1 Public protection from sexual offences

- 7.1.1 When an individual tells Survive that they have been raped or sexually assaulted by a complete stranger, Survive can, with client consent, pass anonymous intelligence to the police. Such intelligence may include the gender and approximate age of the survivor and the rough time and location of the rape or sexual assault.
- 7.1.2 Anonymous intelligence on recent and non-recent incidents perpetrated by a stranger/s can allow the police to put measures in place to increase public protection (e.g. proactive policing) or to link the anonymous intelligence to similar incidents on their police systems.

7.1.3 NOTE anonymous intelligence should not be shared in familial abuse, as the intelligence is too identifying (i.e. the perpetrator or other family members will be able to identify the victim based on the intelligence shared with the police).

7.2 Public protection from terrorism

- 7.2.1 Prevent is part of the Counter Terrorism and Security Act 2015. This is a measure that aims to reduce the threat of terrorism in the UK. Prevent is everybody's business.
- 7.2.2. The overall aim of Prevent is to safeguard children, young people and adults from the threat faced by those who pose extremist or radicalised views. The Prevent programme is about protecting vulnerable people from being exploited by extremists. It places a duty on public sector organisations to prevent people from being drawn towards such views and ensures that support is in place for those who are vulnerable.

7.2.3 Definitions

- Terrorism 'the use or threat of action where the use or threat must is designed to influence the government or to intimidate the public or section of the public and the use or threat is made for the purpose of advancing a political, religious or ideology cause' (Terrorism Act, 2000). Actions can include serious violence against a person, serious damage to property or serious disruption to an electronic system.
- Extremism 'vocal or active opposition to fundamental British values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs' (Home Office, Revised Prevent duty guidance: for England and Wales, Updated 1 April 2021).
- Radicalisation 'someone is being encouraged to develop extreme views or beliefs in support of terrorist groups and activities' (Home Office, Get help for radicalisation concerns, 8 June 2022)
- Radicaliser 'an individual who encourages others to develop or adopt beliefs and views supportive of terrorism and forms of extremism leading to terrorism' (North Yorkshire Safeguarding Children Partnership, Prevent: Extremism and Radicalisation).
- 7.2.4 The most common types of terrorism in the UK are extreme right-wing terrorism and Islamist terrorism (www.gov.uk/guidance/get-help-if-youre-worried-about-someone-being-radicalised).
- Extreme right-wing terrorism may be inspired by groups such as National Action and Atomwaffen Division.
- Islamist terrorism may be inspired by groups such as Daesh or Al Qa'ida.

7.2.5 If someone is expressing extreme views of hatred which could lead to them harming themselves or others, you can raise your concerns in confidence with the Action Counter Terrorism Early Support Line on 0800 011 3764.

8. Supervision and de-briefing

- 8.1 Safeguarding concerns should be raised immediately as stated above, however, staff and volunteers will be given opportunities for wider discussions on any safeguarding concerns:
- In team meetings;

- With their line manager.
- In clinical supervision; or
- With the SCM.

9. Training

- 9.1 CPD certified Safeguarding online training will be provided to all new staff, volunteers and trustees.
- 9.2 Online Designated Safeguarding Lead training will be provided to designated safeguarding leads.
- 9.3 Refresher safeguarding training will be provided to all staff, volunteers and trustees every 3 years.
- 9.4 A record of all staff and volunteers' safeguarding training will be retained in their training file on HR Breathe

10. Access and review

- 10.1 Line managers will signpost staff and volunteers to this policy as part of their induction.
- 10.2 A soft copy of this policy will be stored on Sharepoint and on Breathe HR.
- 10.3 The Board of Trustees will review this policy every 12 months.
- 10.4 Staff and volunteers will be informed of any updates via team meetings.

Other linked policies:

Client contract
Supervision policy
EDI policy
Supervision policy
Whistleblowing policy

Recruitment policy (incl DBS)

Confidentiality, data protection and information sharing policy Safeguarding and Public Protection Policy – Adults at Risk

Version 3 Signed Chair of Trustees: July 2023 Policy owner: SMT
Next review: July 2023 (unless legal change) Charity: Survive

e

8